Learning to communicate

Young toddlers will:

- use words to greet people, ask for what they want and comment on what they like
- tell you they don't like something by shaking their head and saying "no" or "not"
- use 1 word for a whole thought (e.g., "shoe" may mean "Those are my shoes", "I need my shoes" or "I don't want to wear my shoes")
- follow simple directions (e.g., "Bring mommy your shoes")
- answer simple questions (e.g., "Do you want a drink of water?" or "Where's your blanket?")

Once toddlers know 50 words, it will be easier for you to understand what they say. Then they'll start to use them in 2-word sentences such as "More cracker" or "Mommy, go".
